Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to recommend Thi Thanh Thuy Tran. She worked with us for one year as a Java Backend Developer and reported to me in my position as line manager.

Thuy came to our organization with minimal experience working as a software engineer. However, she proved a strong ability to learn quickly skills required to be effective in the performance of her duties. Thuy is a disciplined, hard worker and her performance at our organization is excellent as she always completed all the tasks in the good time manner . I consider her a great asset to our division and our company.

During her time with us, she was responsible for developing and maintaining microservices-based architecture using Spring Boot framework, implementing data storage solutions. She was an excellent team player and collaborated well with cross-functional teams. She participated in code reviews and ensured code quality standards were met. She also created technical documentation for projects and contributed to knowledge sharing initiatives. She was always willing to learn and work overtime when needed.

Thuy has demonstrated her ability to work effectively on outsourced projects in various industries. She was a valuable member of our team, and I am confident she will make a valuable contribution to your organization. Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any further questions about Thuy's abilities.

Sincerely,
